Surgeon Denies Part In Slaying—Had Private Papers

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.— Dr. Charles M. McMillan, a physician and surgeon, was under arrest here today on suspicion of murder of Mrs. Amelia Appleby, said to be a wealthy property owner of Chicago and Los Angeles, whose body, bundled in a canvas sack, was found on Christmas night in a ravine near San Fernando.

Police said the slain woman, who was identified by a forked thumb nail, also was known as Mollie Burke, Amelia Ellenbrough and Margaret Ellen-

She had been missing from her home at Los Angeles for several days when the gruesome find was Although Dr. McMillian admitted he had been handling the woman's property, he denied any implication in the murder.

Dr. McMillan at his home here, reported they found him examining some of the woman's papers when they arrived. Among these papers, the officers said, was a power of attorney and a' will, purported to have been exea' will, purported to have been executed by Mrs. Appleby, bequeathing her property to the doctor.

When the woman's body was found her arms were strapped together in front and her legs fastened in back, both tied with surgeons knots, according to the of-

AIR MAIL PLANNED AS INITIAL EFFORT

Highways And Faster Ships Included In Program

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.-Full congressional backing for a gigantic campaign to speed communication with South America by air, land and water will be sought in the near future.

Establishment of an air mail route to the west coast of the southern continent will be the first ency intervenes, Floyd Hewitt, objective, Rep. Henry W. Watson, Deputy sheriffs, who arrested 17, must die in the electric chair (R) of Pennsylvania said today. Construction of an international highway and the commissioning of new and faster ships by the U.S. shipping board are expected to be included in the program.

Already European nations have gained a foothold in an effort to capture exclusive air line privileges in South America, Watson said. He announced that he would bring the whole problem before congress early in January.

Watson, who spent three months surveying the South American situation, said he found both French Will Ask Alimony Of and German interests making great strides to shorten communication with South American business men by air routes. The French, he said, are developing a combination airplane-steamship route which will take mail from Rio De Janeiro to ones Rhinelander has commenced Paris in five days. It takes three New York.

Haines, Jamestown, victims to Jamestown to have their placed before the county grand suffering from serious injuries injuries dressed

This is the killing of C. Ivy Thoms, Los Angeles druggist, in a holdup on Christmas eve, 1926. Hickman early yesterday confessed to participating in the holdup which resulted in the murder and named Hunt as his accomplice. The latter is only sixteen years old.

JURY MEETS TUESDAY The grand jury investigation will begin next Tuesday, the day on which Hickman is scheduled to enter his plea to the charge of kidnaping and murdering the Parker

Besides investigating the Thoms murder and several other killings, is indecent the grand jury will attempt to find whether Hunt had any connection with the Parker case. They will also inquire into several murders committed in and near Chicago during the period last fall when Hickman was in that city.

It is believed the grand jury investigation also will include questioning of Mrs. Martha M. Driskell, Hunt's stepgrandmother, concerning the suicide of A. F. Driskell, Hunt's grandfather, last May. Hickman and Hunt lived for some time with Mrs. Drickell. Young Hunt was questioned for hours in the district attorney's of. fice concerning his relations with Hickman. It was understood he stood by his confession, made shortly after his arrest, in which he admitted taking part with Hickman in the Thoms holdup and several other robberies, but absolutely denied any connection with the Parker case

In his first confession, Hickman named an accomplice, "Andrew Kramer," as the man who actually murdered the girl and dismember. ed the body. He also named a woman accomplice. Later, however he repudiated this confession, say ing he acted alone

TO ARREST AUTOISTS AFTER DECEMBER 31

Motorists of Xenia and Greene County, who drive automobiles not equipped with 1928 licenses after Saturday, December 31, will be subject to arrest, according to Deputy Sheriff George Sugden.

The sheriff's office has received instructions to this effect from Chalmer R. Wilson, state commissioner of motor vehicles.
With the deadline date approaching for the use of the 1927 tags, a daily increase is noted in the number of autoists visiting the Greene County Auto Club to obtain the new license plates.

The auto club offices will be closed Sunday and Monday.

After Saturday, autoists who have not procured 1928 licenses, are advised to leave their cars in the garage unless they are willing to risk being arrested.

Surgeon Denies Part In Slaying—Had Private Papers

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.— Dr. Charles M. McMillan, a physician and surgeon, was under arrest here today on suspicion of murder of Mrs. Amelia Appleby, said to be a wealthy property owner of Chicago and Los Angeles, whose body, bundled in a canvas sack, was found on Christmas night in a ravine near San Fernando.

Police said the slain woman, who was identified by a forked thumb nail, also was known as Mollie Burke, Amelia Ellenbrough and Margaret Ellenbrough.

She had been missing from her home at Los Angeles for several days when the gruesome find was Although Dr. McMillian admitted he had been handling the woman's property, he denied any implication in the murder.

Dr. McMillan at his home here, reported they found him examining some of the woman's papers when they arrived. Among these papers, the officers said, was a power of attorney and a will, purported to have been executed by Mrs. Appleby, bequeathing her property to the doctor.

When the woman's body was

FASTER COMMUNICATION WITH SOUTH AMERICA TO BE

ESTABLISHMENT OF AIR MAIL PLANNED AS INITIAL EFFORT

Highways And Faster Ships Included In Program

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.-Full congressional backing for a gigantic campaign to speed communication with South America by air. land and water will be sought in the near future.

Establishment of an air mail route to the west coast of the southern continent will be the first ency intervenes, Floyd Hewitt, objective, Rep. Henry W. Watson, (R) of Pennsylvania said today. Construction of an international highway and the commissioning of new and faster ships by the U.S. shipping board are expected to be included in the program.

Already European nations have gained a foothold in an effort to capture exclusive air line privileges in South America, Watson said. He announced that he would bring the whole problem before congress early in January.

Watson, who spent three months surveying the South American situation, said he found both French Will Ask Alimony Of and German interests making great with South American business men by air routes. RESCUE CREW FROM COAST GUARD SHIP

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 .- Twentysix men comprising the crew of the coast guard cutter Rush, which was sunk in Ambrose Channel late last night in a collision with the Standard Oil Company tanker J. A. Moffett, Jr., were brought ashore safely early today by the crews of two other cutters.

The tanker, bound for Corpus Christi, Texas, was struck by the Rush in the fog. The cutter sank rapidly and the crew took to the

The rush, a rum-chaser, was formerly a destroyer. It was on patrol duty.

This is the killing of C. Ivy Thoms, Los Angeles druggist, in a holdup on Christmas eve, 1926. Hickman early yesterday confessed to participating in the holdup which resulted in the murder and named Hunt as his accomplice. The latter is only sixteen years old. JURY MEETS TUESDAY

The grand jury investigation will begin next Tuesday, the day on which Hickman is scheduled to en-ter his plea to the charge of kidnaping and murdering the Parker

Besides investigating the Thoms murder and several other killings, the grand jury will attempt to find whether Hunt had any connection with the Parker case. They will also inquire into several murders committed in and near Chicago during the period last fall when Hickman was in that city.

It is believed the grand jury investigation also will include ques tioning of Mrs. Martha M. Driskell. Hunt's stepgrandmother, concerning the suicide of A. F. Driskell. Hunt's grandfather, last May. Hickman and Hunt lived for some time with Mrs. Drickell.

Young Hunt was questioned for hours in the district attorney's of. fice concerning his relations with Hickman. It was understood he stood by his confession, made shortly after his arrest, in which he admitted taking part with Hickman in the Thoms holdup and several other robberies, but absolutely denied any connection with the Parker case.

In his first confession, Hickman named an accomplice, "Andrew Kramer," as the man who actually murdered the girl and dismember. ed the body. He also named a woman accomplice. Later, however, he repudiated this confession, say

TO ARREST AUTOISTS WITHOUT 1928 TAGS AFTER DECEMBER 31

Motorists of Xenia and Greene County, who drive automobiles not equipped with 1928 licenses after Saturday, December 31, will be subject to arrest, according to Deputy Sheriff George Sugden.

The sheriff's office has received instructions to this effect from Chalmer R. Wilson, state commissioner of motor vehicles.

With the deadline date approaching for the use of the 1927 tags, a daily increase is noted in the number of autoists visiting the Greene County Auto Club to obtain the new license plates.

The Big Ben of Willamette Street

To the stranger crossing Westminster Bridge in London for the first time, Big Ben, the clock over the House of Parliament, dominates the sky line. This giant clock is a fitting symbol of the regularity and authority of Parliament, that sits at its feet. "The chime clock on your wall reminds me of the Big Ben," a friend told us the other day. "It extends a hearty greeting to the stranger as he walks down Detroit St. for the first time.

Across the teeming East river from New York lies Brooklyn, mostly famous because it is hooked onto the other side of the big bridge which bears its name. Brooklyn, however, can also claim fame because it has given more stars to Hollywood than any like area on earth. At least, so loyal Flatbushers claim.

Draws the Curtain

EVENING hours are always thoughtful hours. The evening of another year has come and Father Time is about to draw the curtain. Out of the thoughts that come to us we are suddenly conscious of a fact of no small importance.

Father Time is to be generous with us in the year that is ahead. There will be three hundred and sixty-six days-an extra twenty-four hours to be used in service.

More than as many Loreco Service Stations as there are days in the year ahead of us await the coming of Sunday morningthe first day of the New Year-with an eagerness that has grown out of pleasure of serving the automobile public during the past year.
